DISCUSSION:

Existing law sets wage, hour, meal break requirements, and other working conditions for employees and requires an employer to pay overtime wages as specified to an employee who works in excess of a workday or workweek, as defined, and imposes criminal penalties for the violation of these requirements. Existing law exempts agricultural employees from these requirements.

This bill would remove the exemption for agricultural employees regarding hours, meal breaks, and other working conditions, including specified wage requirements, and as currently written would:

- Phase-in, over a four-year period, the new requirements that overtime pay be paid to farm employees after 8 hours of work in a day or 40 hours in a week by 2022, giving small employers (25 or fewer employees) an additional three years to comply;

- Require agricultural employees to either take one day off every seven days or take off at least four days a month, even during the busiest harvest months and
- Eliminate the current exemptions for farm managers, irrigators, sheepherders and family members as of January 1, 2017.
