DISCUSSION:

On March 22, 2018, a joint meeting between the Fresno County Board of Supervisors and the FCERA Board was held. At this meeting, FCERA investment strategies were presented. In the presentation, it was noted that FCERA strategies have resulted in a much lower rate of return than actuarial projections. A change in these strategies could have a major impact on the overall health of the plan.

The current consultant overseeing the investment managers performance has been under contract with FCERA for over 15 years and the Fund's actuary has been under contract for close to 10 years. The Government Finance Officers Association (GFOA) recommends that governments review their financial services contracts every five years through a competitive process. This practice is followed throughout the County as new contracts for services are typically three years with two one-year extensions. The letter asks the FCERA Board to follow this best practice when managing their contracts.
